Evaluators ask good questions

Evaluators aren’t afraid of data

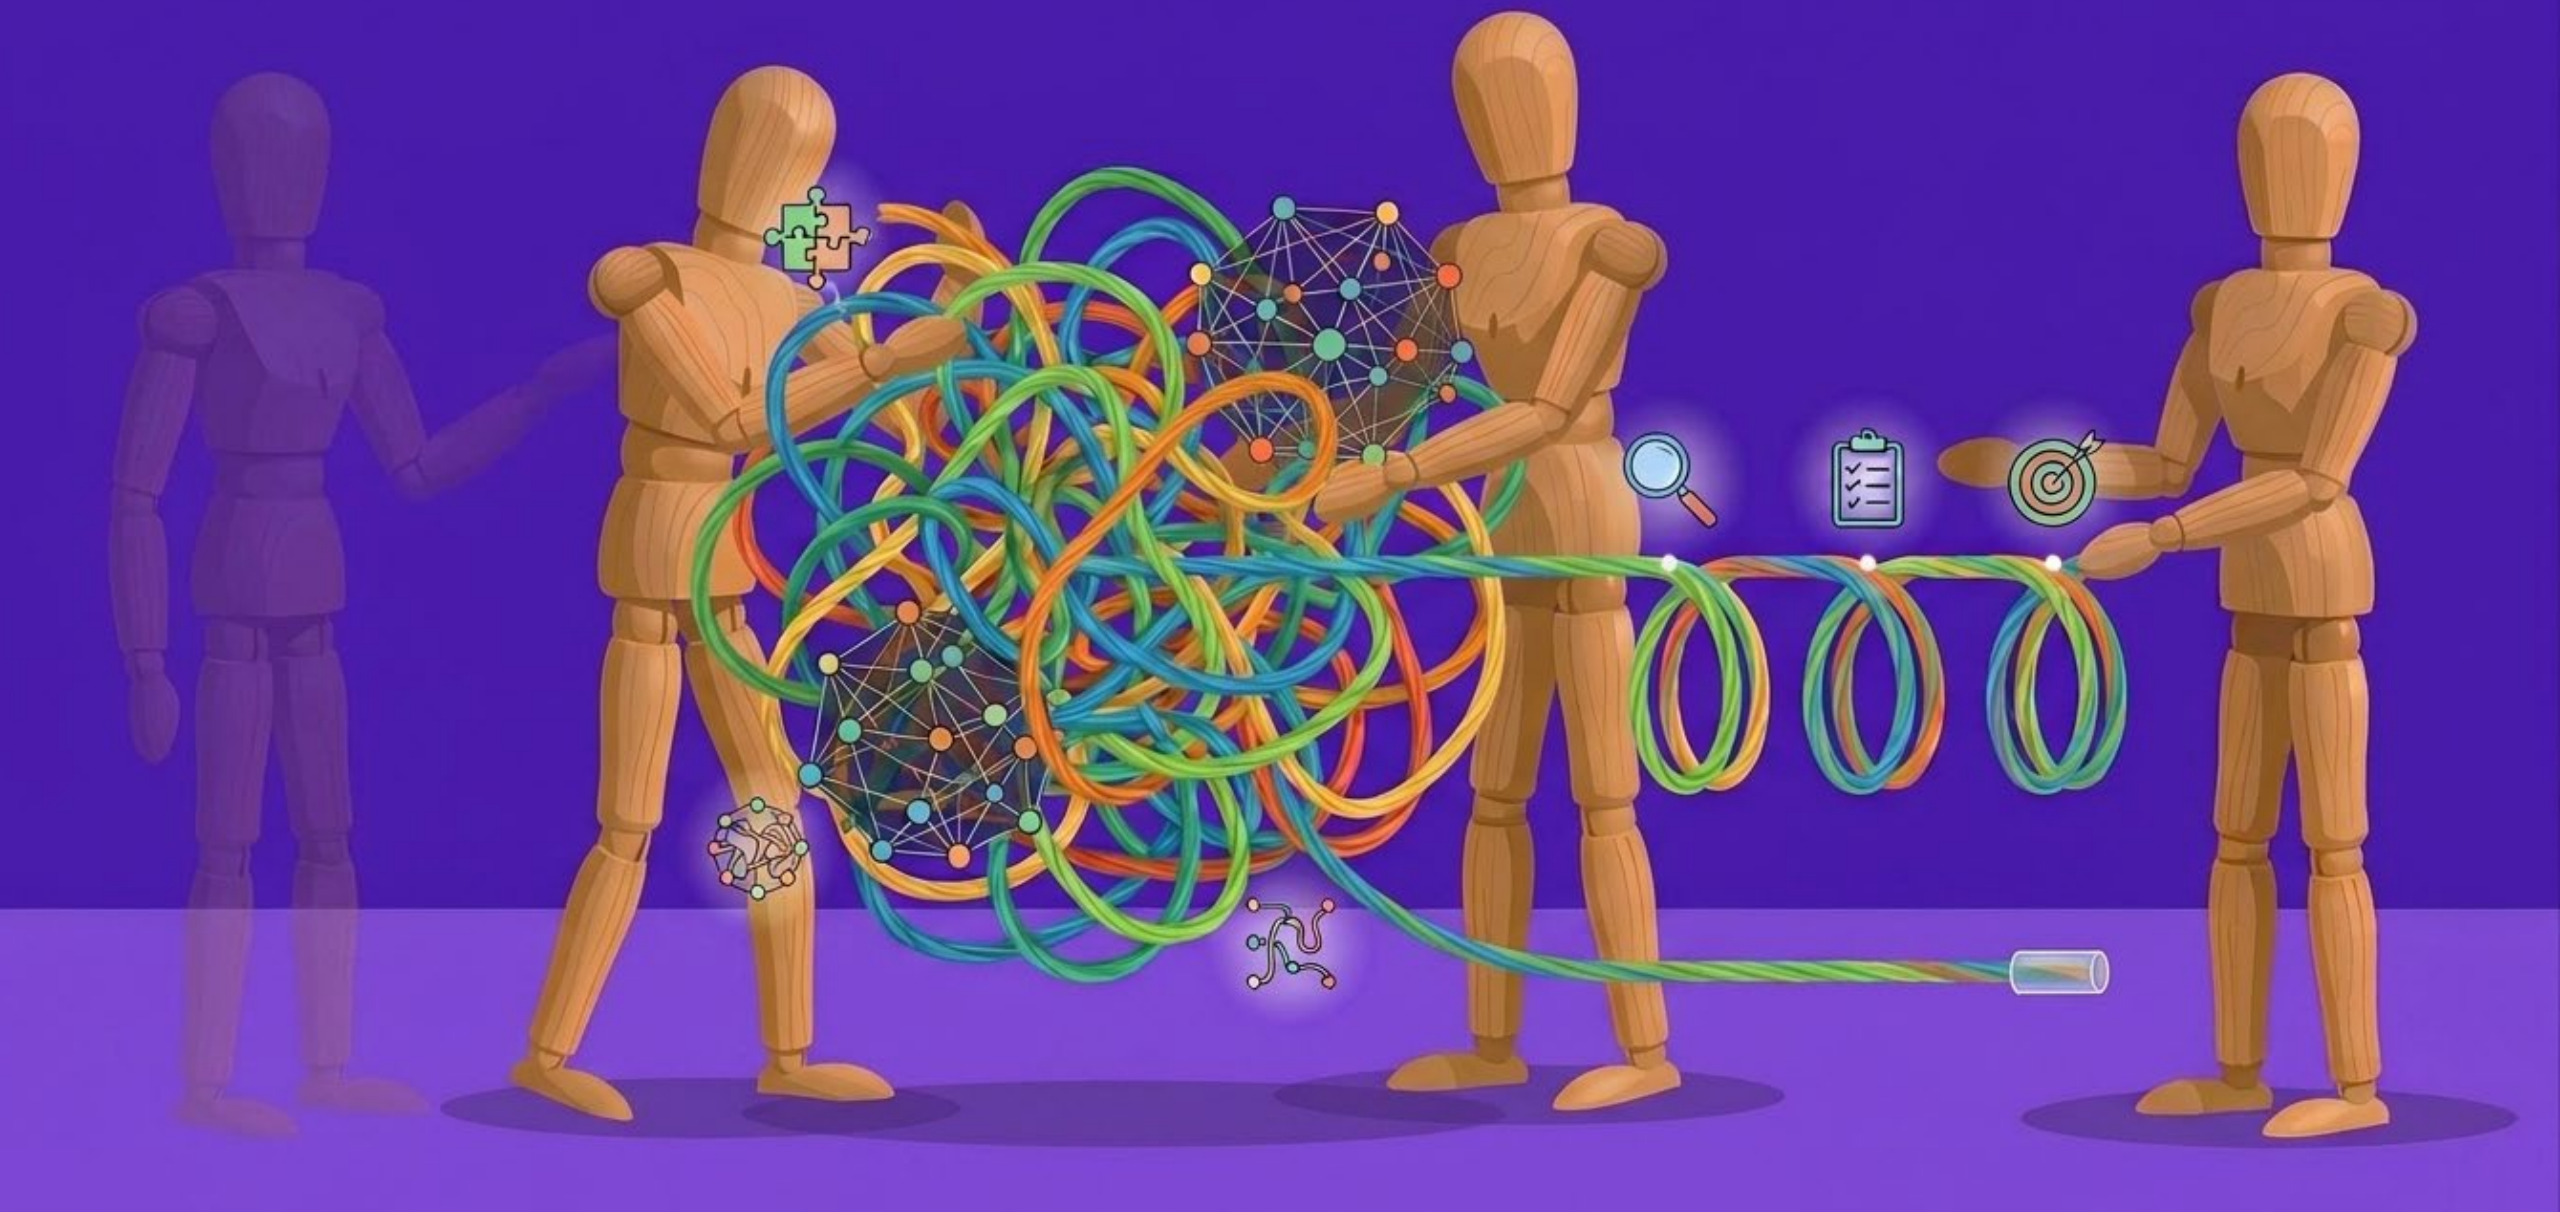

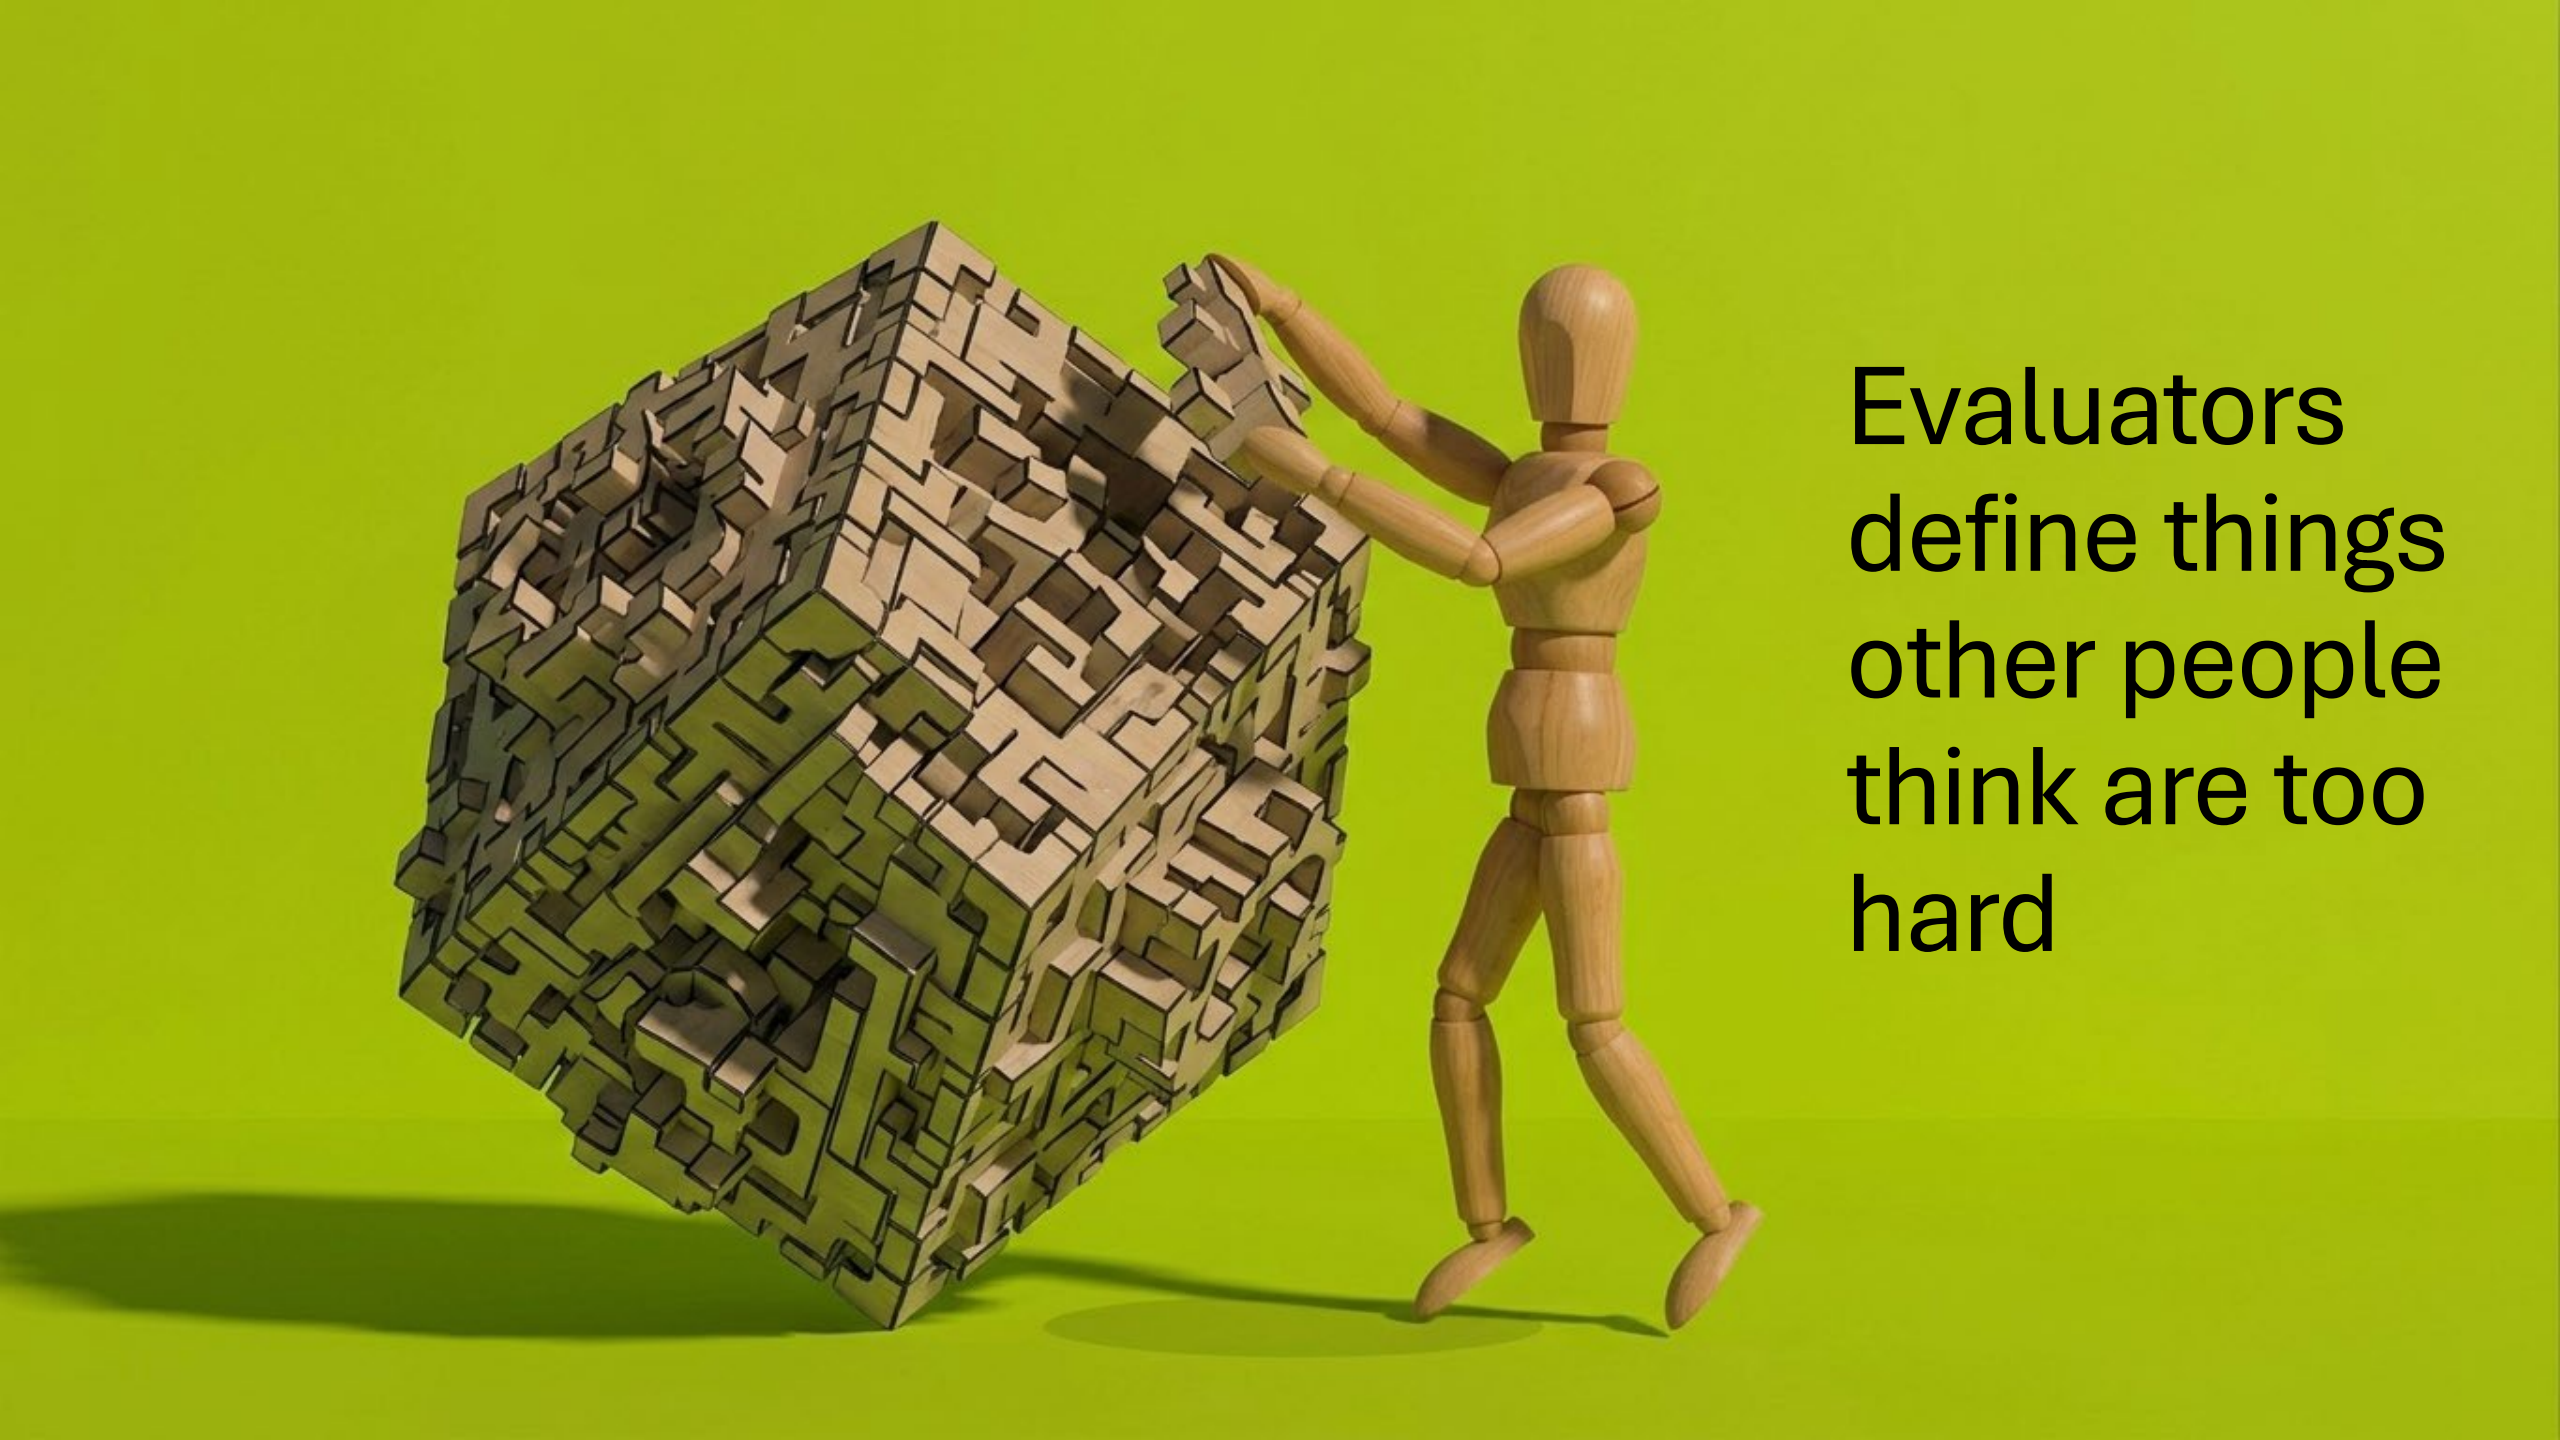

Evaluators have brave conversations

Evaluators get diversity

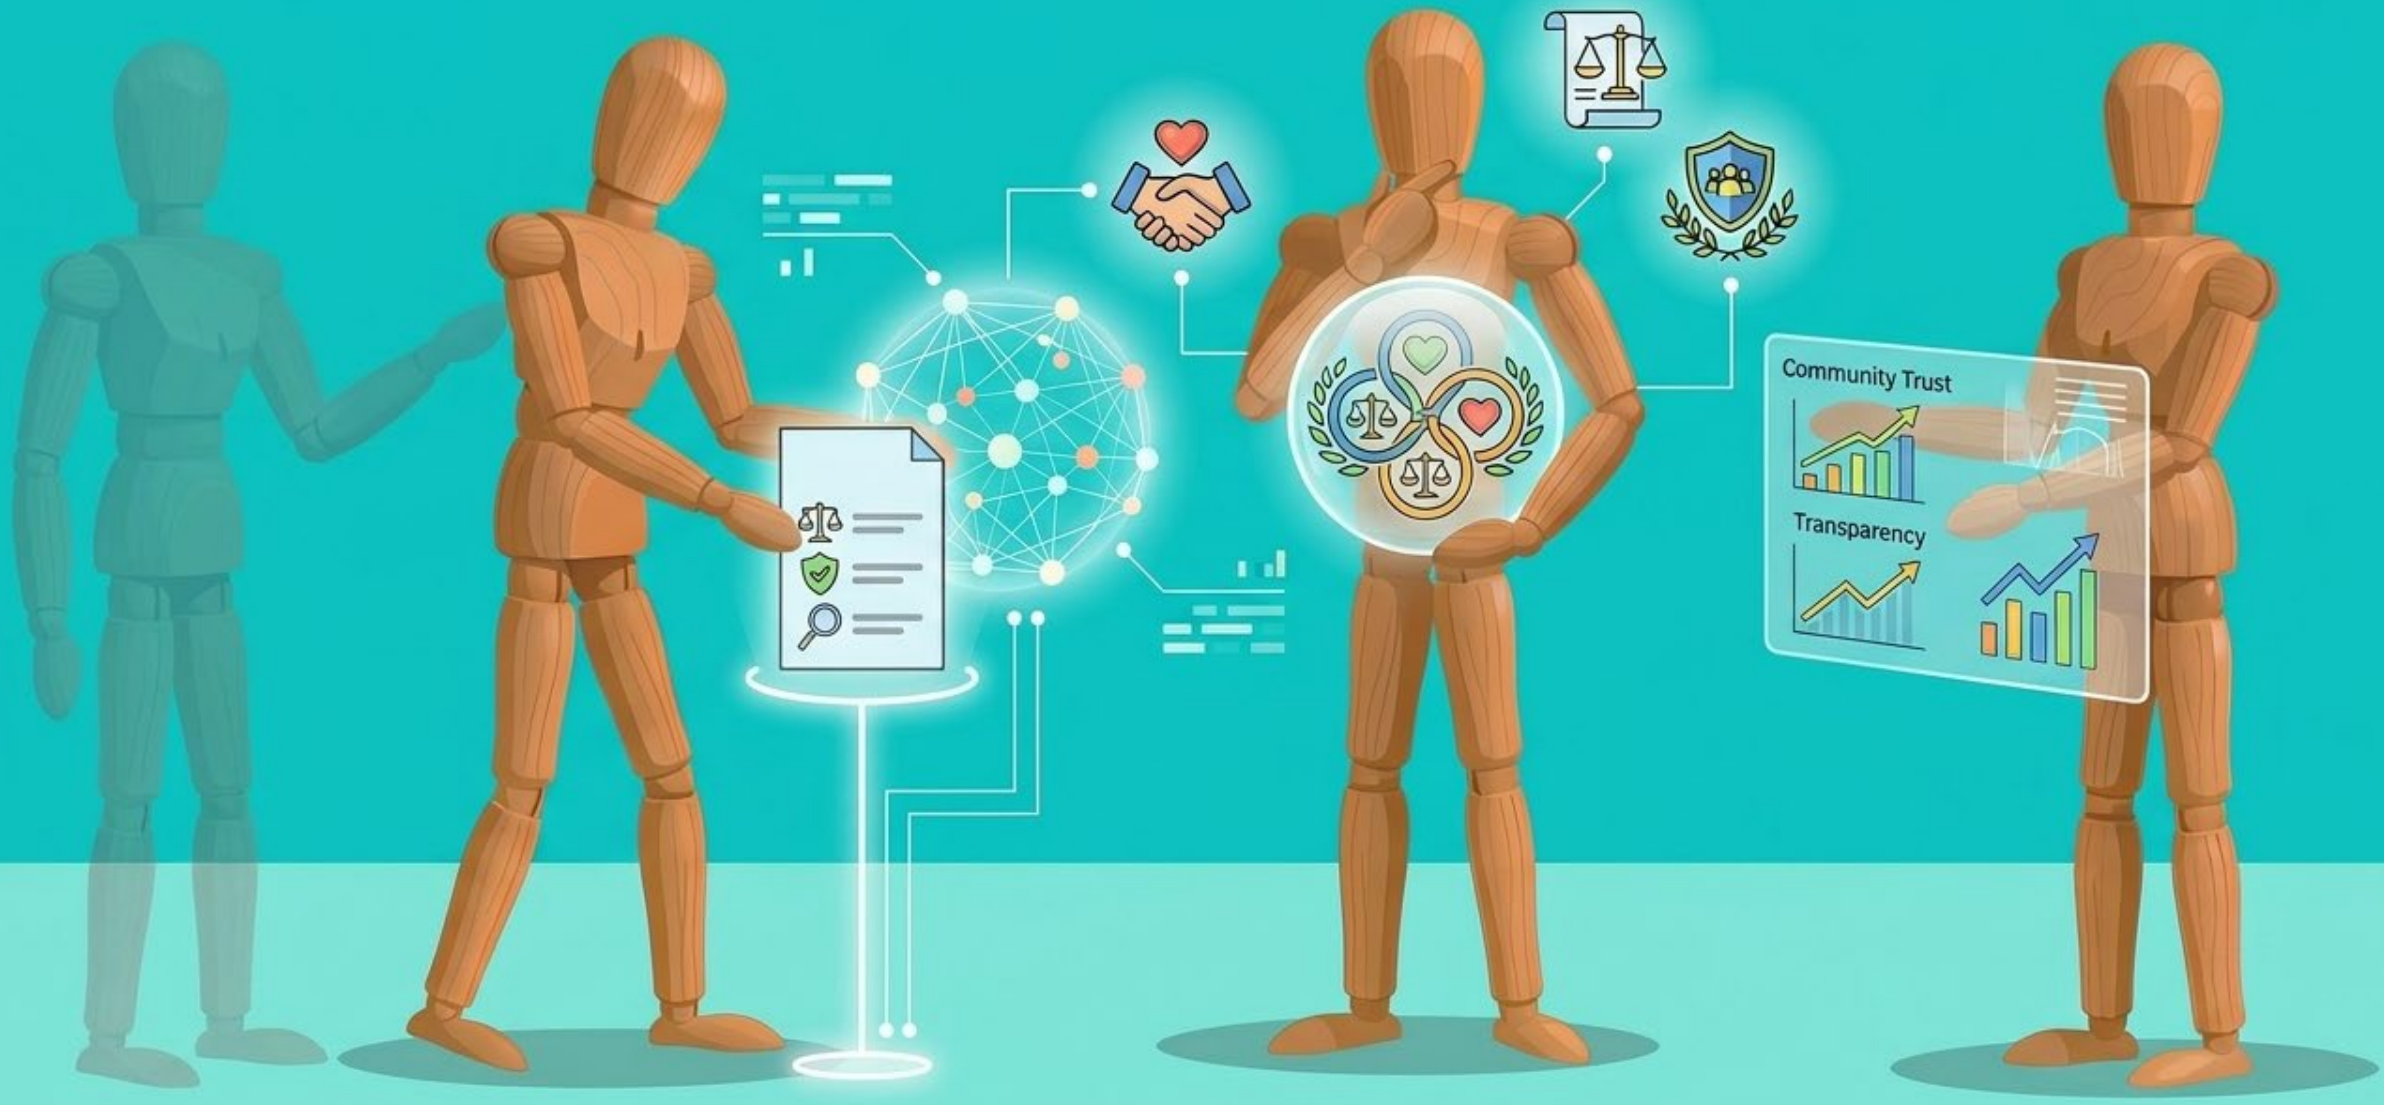

Evaluators can untangle complicated things

Evaluators define things other people think are too hard

Evaluators engage with ethics and action

We got this!

Australian Centre for Evaluation

The Australian Centre for Evaluation (ACE) was established to help put evaluation evidence at the heart of policy design and decision-making.

We seek to improve the volume, quality, and use of
